

The SETA Archive committee did not have a formal meeting at the 2017 SETA Convention. Sarah Deitch, Mike Deitch, and MaryKaye Frazier set up an Archives Room with a number of displays from the Repository. We talked with a number of people who came in to browse the Archives. One person, whose name tag said "Magic", claimed to have a box of old Grapevines in his attic which date from 1957. He promised to bring them to the next assembly and he took a copy of our business cards so who knows? We tried to keep the Salon open as much as possible through the convention but it is difficult with only two people. I am encouraging each District to try and get one person to volunteer for the committee. We are trying to set up presentations for each district during which we would bring a sample of the traveling displays and explain the committee and how important saving our local history is.

We will meet the first Saturday of February at the Repository for a work session. All interested parties are invited to attend. If you think you might want to join us, or just check us out, email me at: marykayef22080@gmail.com.

Respectfully submitted
