UNITY | SERVICE | RECOVERY

Step 12

"Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs."

Tradition 12

"Anonymity is the spiritual foundation of all our Traditions, ever reminding us to place principles before personalities."

Concept 12

"The Conference shall observe the spirit of AA tradition, taking care that it never becomes the seat of perilous wealth or power; that sufficient operating funds and reserve be its prudent financial principle; that it place none of its members in a position of unqualified authority over others; that it reach all important decisions by discussion, vote, and whenever possible, by substantial unanimity; that its actions never be personally punitive nor an incitement to public controversy; that it never perform acts of government, and that, like the Society it serves, it will always remain democratic in thought and action."

Getting Out of Ourselves

Getting Out of Ourselves

It is amazing that the thinking process I had developed over the years while drinking had become my normal way of living and believing. So, when I sought help for the way my life sucked, or I perceived it was going, I had no clue how that journey was going to go. I had no clue what was expected of me and could not assume what would be done. That is the best thing that could have happened for my way of thinking got me to wanting help.

I have come to find out that I had been thinking of myself way too much over the years. I just believed I had a good topic to think about. I did not spend very much time thinking of what others may need, or want. If it did not fall in my selfish thoughts then I just did not worry with it. Usually if you asked me to help you I would do it if there was something in it for me. This thinking had to be changed completely, the good old boys said to me.

I was told that my perception of life was really skewed and deranged. I was told to take the cotton out of my ears and put in my mouth, or one actually just told me to shut the hell up! Everything that I carried into treatment and AA had to be removed and changed. To what? Well, to 'others,' dummy. "Where did thinking of yourself get you?" Learn to be of service to others. "Oh, really? Why?", I asked.

As we worked the steps, I found out that if I would call some other AA members that I would not be thinking of myself so much during that time. My 'victim' attitude became less and less. Look what was done to me! That thinking gradually was being changed. Instead, it was becoming how can I be of service. But it was a slow, gradual process. Just when I thought that I was making good progress then, I would have a selfish thought set back.

The process really took off after a couple years in the fellowship. I told my sponsor that I did not really like other people too much and I became the group greeter before the start of two weekly meetings. I griped about how the meeting was set up and became the coffee maker. I had to get there an hour before to make the coffee and set up the room. Then, I became the Alternate GSR, then the GSR. I found out that I was the conduit between the group and the fellowship. I had a vote, but my opinion was not needed. Politicking for some topic, or for what you want or want to be, was not good for me.

In the fellowship, selfish thinking had to be removed, at best, or set aside. I now had to develop some humility. Learning who and what I am and what I want to become. Doing something for someone and do not tell another person. That, my sponsor told me, was a version of humility that he was taught.

I have a character defect of listening to another person or persons talk and not hearing them because I am always waiting for them to take a break so that I can interrupt them to get my thought or point across. My way, or thoughts, were always better than yours. To cure me of this, my Higher Power got me to be the DCM for my district. I was to have to listen to your whole thought and not give my opinion. I was to be a facilitator of information between groups and individuals only. I was told to not give my opinion in order to sway the process in any way. So, my motives were in play now too.

So, Bill and Dr. Bob figured out that working with another alcoholic was the best cure to not thinking about yourself. When this thinking starts to come, then at least, reach out to another AA member or members. During these calls or discussions, you are not thinking of yourself and wasting your time on that topic. I found that I am not all as important as I believe that I am. I just want to be of service. That is all that I want for myself as much as I can have it. It does take constant work. I keep trying.

 - Hello to Everyone at District 40! May this month find you enjoying the cooler weather and fall festivities with your families. This month's pamphlet challenged is "A.A. for the Black and African American Alcoholic" and truly speaks of the Third Tradition: "The only requirement for A.A. membership is a desire to stop drinking." One is a member if one says they are. As stated in the pamphlet, "In 1940, Bill W. invited two Black/African American alcoholics to attend meetings in the New York area. These members and several more found sobriety in the program. One of the originators of A.A.'s first Black/African American group, Jim S. wrote "Jim's Story" from the Big Book editions 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. Since that time, despite the many obstacles sometimes faced by many people of color, thousands of Black/African American have found recovery in Alcoholics Anonymous. Here are the following upcoming events;
